

School of Social Work

The Adelphi University School of Social Work invites applications for the following faculty positions:

Two tenure-track Assistant Professors
One Associate or Full Professor

The Adelphi University School of Social Work (<http://socialwork.adelphi.edu/>) offers baccalaureate, master's and doctoral education to a diverse student body of 800 with its main campus in Garden City, New York and Extension Centers in Manhattan, Poughkeepsie, and Hauppauge. The B.S.W. prepares graduates for generalist practice; the M.S.W. curriculum concentration is contemporary, direct practice; and the Ph.D. curriculum prepares experienced practitioners for leadership roles as educators, scholars, researchers, policy makers, and administrators. The school is committed to excellence in teaching, scholarship, service, and active collaboration with its communities.

Position descriptions:

(2) Tenure-track Assistant Professors: A doctorate in social work or an allied field is required; a MSW degree is preferred, but not required.

(1) Associate or Full Professor: A doctorate in social work or an allied field; a MSW degree is preferred, but not required. Candidates for this position will also be considered for their potential to chair the doctoral program, but the chairmanship is not a requirement for the position.

Successful candidates for all positions should have teaching experience and a continuing record of scholarly achievements appropriate for the rank of appointment. Candidates with expertise and commitment to teaching in the areas of practice and/or social policy are preferred, although candidates with other expertise will be considered. We are interested in candidates who can teach at the BSW, MSW and/or Ph.D. levels.

You must apply online at <http://www.adelphi.edu/positions/faculty> with a letter of interest, CV, and the names and contact information for three references. The search will begin immediately. Applications received after January 15th, 2012 may not be reviewed.
