

PROVIDENCE COLLEGE

The Department of Social Work at Providence College invites applicants for a tenure-track assistant professorship in its baccalaureate level social work program commencing fall 2010. Requirements: MSW from a CSWE accredited program and earned doctorate in social work (PHD/DSW), or closely related discipline; demonstrated teaching effectiveness, preferably at the baccalaureate level; and at least 4 years post MSW practice experience at either the micro or macro levels. The successful candidate will teach selected courses in the Social Work curriculum, assuming primary teaching responsibilities in the practicum sequence, and will progressively assume responsibility for the educational and administrative oversight of the Field Education curriculum. Experience in Field education teaching at the BSW level is preferred. Additional information about the position and the application process can be found at <http://www.providence.edu/about+pc/employment+opportunities/>