

The University of Georgia

School of Social Work

Assistant Professor Tenure-Track Position Aug, 2010 or January, 2011

Chartered in 1785, The University of Georgia in Athens, Georgia is a Carnegie Research Extensive University and the state's flagship institution of higher education. The School of Social Work at the University of Georgia has been providing professional social work education since 1964, and has graduated more than 4,500 students across its three degree programs. The School is nationally and internationally known for excellence in research and teaching, international programs, and faculty's commitment to social justice.

Requirements for Position include a doctorate in Social Work or closely related field and an MSW. The successful candidate will demonstrate strong research capacity and the potential to generate external research funding. In addition, the school is seeking individuals with willingness to teach across the BSW and MSW programs. Previous experience with on-line teaching is desired. The University of Georgia, School of Social Work is committed to having a diverse faculty culture. Salary is commensurate with record of achievements and rank.

Focus on MSW Level Education

Expertise and ability to teach across the learning environment in our MSW program, including our part-time evening MSW program with non-traditional students is desired. Teaching areas of particular interest include Foundation and Family Centered Clinical concentration. Candidates with a strong interest in teaching advanced clinical content including family assessment and intervention are encouraged to apply. Responsibilities include scholarship, teaching, field liaison, and organizational service. Two years post masters practice experience required.

Please send a cover letter outlining research interests and teaching philosophy, curriculum vita, and three names of potential references with their contact information to: Dr. Larry Nackerud, Chair, Faculty Search Committee, The University of Georgia, School of Social Work, Tucker Hall, Athens, Georgia, 30602-7106. The position is open until filled.

For further information, email Larry Nackerud: nackerud@uga.edu

The University of Georgia is an affirmative action/equal opportunity institution.

The University of Georgia School of Social Work
"Advocates for Positive Social Change"